Tales OF TWO CITIES

ALL WINNERS

Every one of the fireworks display last night at Upland Memorial park was a "winner". Except for the usual "duds" that didn't go off, each one was spectacular and there seemed to be a "surprise" in every package.

One thing about the fiseworks this year. Each one seemed to last a lot longer and there was more variety in each "shot".

Judging from the frequent sounding of car horns, the public apparently enjoyed just about every one of them.

TOUGHIE

Admitting we're prejudiced since we happen to be a Rotarian, the 7-6 defeat administered to the Upland Rotary club by the Upland Lions was still a "tough" one to lose. The Wheelers led until the seventh inning when a Lions' rally and one "bad break" cost them the game.

That "break", which will probably be disputed for several months to come, came when Paul Hottel scooped up a grounder at short and instead of throwing it to Harry Wright ran over to the bag. At the same time he handed the ball to Harry, who dropped it and the umpire ruled the man coming down from first safe at second base.

Paul and the rest of the Rotary infield insisted that the runner was already out when Harry dropped the ball, declaring that Paul tagged the base before handing the ball over.

But that's the breaks of any game and what the umpire says has to stand.

So, for another year, the annual Rotary-Lions clash is over. Maybe the Rotarians will be able to go through an entire seven innings next year without a mishap.

CURLY FISHES

Curly Rosenberger had quite an experience fishing the other day.

He was very quietly pulling in a four-pound sea bass and was already contemplating how it would look in a frying pan when suddenly he ran into obstacle.

A big, black sea bass swimming in the water looking for prey spotted Curly's catch and immediately went after it. From that point on it was a "battle royal" and our informant tells us that the local fisherman went around the boat four times in attempting to land both of the sea inhabitants.

We'd like to report that Curly was successful and that he is now the proud owner of two fish instead of none. But alas! it was not so. The big black bass won out and all that Curly got out of the deal was a big, empty hook. Our condolences, Curley and better luck next time.

MAYBE IKE

With the Fourth over, the American people can now turn their attention to the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia next Monday. Although it looks like President Truman will get the nomination, a well-organized boom for Gen. Eisenhower could upset the applecart. It wouldn't be the first time in our history that a President has been refused the nomination by his own party. The Whigs gave Millard Fillmore the go-bye in 1852. And the Republicans broke tradition by renominating a defeated candidate, Gov. Dewey. So, apparently, we're living through a period in history when anything can happen.

Demand Russia End Blockade of Berlin

Stern U.S. Note Handed Envoy By Sec. Marshall

LONDON Æ — The United States, Britain and France protested strongly to Russia today against the Soviet blockade of western Berlin.

The notes were handed to Soviet ambassadors in the three capitals.

Secretary of State Marshall presented the American note of protest personally to Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin.

Immediately afterward, State department press officer Lincoln White issued this statement:

"Ambassador Panyuhkin called on the secretary at 11:30 o'clock (EDT) this morning and was given a note regarding the situation in Berlin.

"The ambassador was informed that it is not the intention of this government to make the contents of the note public until the Soviet government had a reasonable period of time to study the note and make its reply."

The United States acted in concert with Britain and France in protesting strongly the Soviet blockade of the German capital.

White officially gave no intimation of the line which Marshall took.

Other diplomatic informants said there appeared no doubt that he demanded the immediate lifting of the Berlin blockade, and protested Russia's recent policies in the German capital. They said he argued that the Soviet Union must directly accept responsibility for any lack of supplies among the millions of Germans living in Berlin.

White did not define what was meant by a "reasonable period of time" in which the Soviet government could study the American note but presumably it meant several days at least.

The contents of the notes from the three western powers are not expected to be disclosed for several days.

Panyushkin said Marshall had

BERLIN Æ — The Russians placed strict controls on trucks entering western Berlin today, tightening their land blockade of the western sectors of the city.

The Berlin crisis appeared headed for a climax. In Paris, the French foreign office said it had a document from the British embassy indicating a Moscow-directed Communist plan to drive the western allies out of Berlin.

Cheers Ring For Benes, Silence For Gottwald

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (Æ)—Cheers for resigned President Eduard Benes rang through Prague today from the throats of 80,000 marchers in the Sokol congress parade. Kelement Gottwald, the Communist premier who succeeded Benes, got silent treatment.

There were cheers also for Yugoslavia and Premier Marshal Tito, denounced recently by the Cominform as a heretic from the Marx-Lenin line.

"We have no true republic without T. G. Masaryk and Benes," the marchers chanted as they tramped through central Prague in the rain.

Masaryk was founder and first president of Czechoslovakia. His son, Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, plunged to his death soon after the Communists seized the country. Benes resigned recently without signing the new Communist constitution.

Sokol members shoulted "Long Live Brother Benes", but there were no cheers for Gottwald. The marchers passed coldly by the reviewing stand in the old town square where Gottkaid sparked the drive for Communist power last Feb. 22.

The Sokol is a national cultural and physical training organization. It is not political but has acquired a reputation for being anti-communist.

50,000 Miners Go On Strike

PITTSBURGH Æ—A walkout of 50,000 of the nation's 400,000 coal miners began today in the two leading coal states—West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Most of the idle were miners protesting lack of a contract in steel company captive mines. The rest were commercial coal diggers in western Pennsylvania who stayed home in sympathy.

Steel production was hit at once. The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., a U.S. Steel subsidiary, announced at Pittsburgh the banking of at least eight blast furnaces and 28 open hearths. Its Bessemer output at Youngstown, O., was cut in half.

Captive mines idle in West Virginia included those of the American Rolling Mill Co.

Overall coal production in western Pennsylvania, which employs 56,000 miners, was only 20 per cent of normal.

The big U.S. Steel corporation reported all 14 of its Pennsylvania mines, employing 11,000 men, were idle, causing a daily loss of 55,000 tons of coal.

Old Upland Home To Be Reproduced on Canvass

One of the community's oldest houses and which still retains all the typical design and facilities of construction of "another age," is being reproduced today on artists' canvas.

The Mary E. Boone residence, 462 South Euclid avenue, is this week's subject for the Chaffey college summer art class. Thirty-five students, some of college age and many adult residents of the community, took advantageous locations around and about the old residence, horse barn, out-building, lean-to and whatnots.

Citrus trees were recently removed from the historic property and left for the gaze of today's modern-minded residents are the farm house of ancient vintage.

"This is one of the best picture subjects of its kind and many artists have used it," explained John McNee, head of the Chaffey college art department.

He pointed to the residence as he stood 175 feet away and gave suggestions to one of his eager students. Perhaps the student had not properly portrayed one of the missing shingles from the roof of the front porch.

"It will take about a week for the class to give this setting the proper treatment," and then added: "We like subjects like this and we will have to go a long ways to get a better one."

"Mrs. Boone, who has lived in the house many years, has been very cooperative."

MANY FIRES

Upland Park Backdrop Destroyed By Flames

Fire Sunday destroyed the canvas backdrop of the main stand at the Upland Memorial park baseball diamond and Fire Chief Howard Paulin said the blaze might have been set: possibly by the same persons who fired awnings on two downtown business buildings recently.

Police meanwhile were continuing their arson investigation in connection with those blazes. Det. Sgt. Henry A. Younge is in charge.

Sunday's fire—a general alarm—reduced the highly inflammable canvas to ashes in a matter of minutes.

The park refreshment stand nearby and the smaller canvas covering the bleachers along the first base side of the diamond were saved. The fire occurred at 2:10 p.m., a time when very few persons were in the park.

The two top rows of seats in the main stand were damaged in the blaze.

Approximately $100 worth of damage was done a motorcycle in a fire at Eleventh street and Euclid avenue last night. The machine, ridden by Dale Robert Lee, North Hollywood, caught fire when sparks ignited gasoline dripping from the machine's carburetor. Upland firemen put out the blaze.

At 3:55 p.m. yesterday, a brush fire occurred in a pile of tree stumps west of Grove avenue and North of Foothill boulevard.

The state division of forestry, San Antonio Heights assisted local personnel in bringing the fire under control. The area was burned around and the blaze permitted to burn itself out.

Grass Fires

Numerous grass fires were reported over the three-day weekend. None did any damage.

One occurred at 6:05 p.m. Sunday on Valle Vista drive, Red Hill. Upland firemen assisted the state in this one.

Children playing with matches were blamed for two conflagrations Saturday. One occurred east of the Parkside community building and the other at Thirteenth street and Campus avenue.

Another occurred Friday at the corner of Foothill boulevard and Euclid avenue at 12:03 p.m.

Fireworks Show Draws Record Crowd

Police Handle Heaviest Traffic

Nearly 2,000, a record number, from throughout the Upland district as well as many from Ontario flocked to Upland Memorial park yesterday to observe Independence Day which was climaxed beginning at 9 o'clock with a brilliant display of fireworks.

Upland police who with assistance from Upland Boy Scouts, handled the parking and direction of cars reported that this was the largest traffic that they had ever handled on the Fourth.

The cars began to arrive early in the evening for the Upland Rotary-Lions game and the stream never seemed to stop even after the fireworks display had gotten underway. All of the parking facilities at the park were loaded to capacity and all the roads into the park were crowded with vehicles. The string of cars extended on Eleventh all the way to Campus and Campus from Eleventh to Arrow was also packed with autos, each one of them carrying three or four passengers.

The multi-colored fireworks could be seen as far away as Euclid avenue and Eleventh street, as well as many other points in the city. A large crowd was observed in the courtyard of the Catholic church on Campus, as well as at the Parkside and Los Olivos projects.

High Praise

The fireworks, which cost $1500, came in for high praise from spectators and the constant blowing of horns at almost every piece indicated that the entire display was enthusiastically received. More colorful and brighter pyrotechnic pieces were very much in evidence last night than has been in the past.

With facilities at the park better developed, many more Uplanders had their evening meal at the picnic tables between 5 and

GETTING ACQUAINTED

UPLAND POSTAL EMPLOYE MEETS HIS DAUGHTER-IN-LAW AFTER TWO YEARS

Lloyd G. Carpenter, clerk at the Upland postoffice, is just now in the process of getting acquainted with his daughter-in-law which he acquired over two years ago.

Mr. Carpenter's son Keith, stationed with the army in Germany for over two years, finally was able to bring his German bride home after months of negotiations.

Keith and his wife, Eleonare, were married in Germany in 1946. Released from the army last fall, Keith returned home and started the process immediately of getting his wife admitted to this country.

It was a long and involved process. The Carpenters, former Upland residents, who now live in LaVerne, were bombarded with one set of forms to fill out after another. Then, when they were all filled out, the government immigration officials sent them back, pointing out that one question or the other had not been properly answered.

Final steps were taken during the last of May, and the new Mrs. Carpenter was able to join her husband at their home in LaVerne, where he is now employed.

The Carpenters realized the swiftness and effectiveness of modern transportation when Eleanore was flown from Berlin to Los Angeles in one day and two nights.

COOL SUIT—Screen Actress Margaret Field wears a white pique suit with a narrow skirt and bolero jacket.

Dorothy Thompson

Nine months ago, in two articles titled "On having a revolution by the tail," this column outlined the reasons why what now has happened in Yugoslavia was bound—in the nature of things—to happen, in the course of the Soviet Union's effort to establish, first, European and, eventually, world hegemony by way of the international communist parties.

I pointed out then that there has been no unbroken continuity of interpretation in Marxist—Leninist ideology; that the history of the soviet union itself has been a history of bloody crises and purges; and that the clash of the national interests of other countries with the national interests of the soviet state was unavoidable.

In the articles I wrote in October, 1947, I even predicted the emergence in the European parties of tendencies that would appear to Moscow as "Trotskyist."

The fact is that the national interests as well as the cultural imponderables tie the east-European states with western Europe, and not with the soviet union; and that although the Marshall Plan is weak, the Molotov plan is a cripple. If Marshall Tito and his administration can survive the Russian attack, they will be not less but more popular with their own people, and if they do the repercussions will resound throughout all Europe—including the eastern states.

Probably few Americans outside New York will have the opportunity to read the full text of the cominform denunciation of Tito and even fewer will understand its peculiar verbiage and dialectic. But first of all, this is not the pronouncement of a bureau of information. This is the old ECCI (Executive committee of the Communist international) speaking together with the control commission (the prosecutory organ of the international). So let us call the comintern by its right name.

Secondly, it is clear that internal economic conditions in Yugoslavia are serious—as they are throughout eastern Europe. In such cases it is never the communist system that is at fault but always the ideological deviations of leader, whose head must roll.

Thirdly, although in the United Nations the Russians perpetually speak of the "soverign rights" of independent states, the comintern document reveals that the Yugoslav government was under constant Russian surveillance and that one of Tito's chief crimes was to set up a counterespionage to foil the Russian.

Fourthly, Tito, unlike the old Bolshevists of the 1936-37 trials, refused to confess his errors before the international star chamber. In so refusing he committed the worst crime in the Communist decalogue—the crime of "Individualism," of refusing to accept even the most preposterous accusations, of refusing to even die under them, since the matter of truth and falsehood is a bourgeois prejudice" and the solidarity of the party a higher object of fidelity than an individual fate.

The world of such psychology is so far removed from ours that it requires considerable knowledge and tremendous imaginative effort to put oneself into it, but one man has done it for all time—Arthur Koestler, in "Darkness at Noon," which is not only one of the greatest novels to be produced in our times, but also the truest picture of Communist psychology in existence. It should be real by all Americans and particularly by the ignorant young followers of Henry Wallace's alliance — and by Mr. Wallace himself.

Marshal Tito is—or thought he was—outside Russian jurisdiction. The question then is: How far can the arm of the party prosecution reach? To the head of a "sovereign" state, represented in the U.N.? If so, where is the United Nations?

Not that I am sympathetic with Tito. He himself has performed the same sort of "justice" now mobilized against him. The prevailing goddess of history is irony.

But for ourselves: Seize the moment! Mobilize more bombers to feed Berlin — all we can send. Eastern Europe is, however momentarily, rocking. This is no time for the Soviets to make war. We should take advantage of their crisis, be calm, brave, decisive, and perform our duty.

GEN. EISENHOWER PUTS 'BRAKE' ON BOOM, REITERATES HE IS NOT A CANDIDATE

in a statement which said:

"I will not at this time identify myself with any political party and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contest."

Now president of Columbia university ,the former army chief of staff made his views known last night through the university's public relations director in a memorandum released to the press.

President Truman, en route back to Washington from a speaking trip in Missouri, was reported cheered by Eisenhower's action. His only direct comment, when awakened and told of the news in St. Louis, was that General Eisenhower "is an honorable man."

But Mr. Truman's aides interpreted the statement as a death blow to the movement to sidetrack the President at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia.

Eisenhower said he was "profoundly touched by the renewed suggestion that I could satisfactorily fill high public office." But, he said, he had not changed his mind since telling Republicans last January that he was "not available."

That had stopped the Republicans. But some of the general's chief Democratic boosters held on grimly today.

In Los Angeles James Roosevelt said he does not feel Gen. Eisenhower has taken himself out of the presidential running.

Roosevelt, chairman of the California Democratic organization, reissued his call last night to party leaders for a caucus in Philadelphia next Saturday before the convention opens.

Roosevelt interpreted Gen. Eisenhower's statement as an indication "he will not serve as a partisan president but will answer a call to national duty."

Declared Roosevelt:

"The Republicans have nominated a purely political candidate. It is up to the Democratic party to enable the people of this country to have the opportunity of voting for Dwight Eisenhower as a national candidate, unfettered in these days of international crisis by the normal trappings of partisan politics."

The people of this country, Roosevelt said he believed, want a national unity candidate, and "the Democratic party is equal to this challenge."

The Eisenhower-for-president headquarters in Philadelphia announced that it was remaining open for business. The statement said "we still have faith in his Americanism and patriotism and are certain that he will bow to the will of the people."

In New Jersey, where 36 convention votes were pledged this week to the former commander of allied forces in Europe, Archibald S. Alexander, Democratic candidate for senator, felt the draft-Ike movement might not "necessarily be finally closed."

A similar view was expressed by Hugh B. Mitchell, former senator from Washington.

On the other hand, some Eisenhower strength began drifting away.

Georgia's Democratic chairman, James S. Peters, said that state's 28 convention votes, previously instructed for Eisenhower, now will go to Senator Richard B. Russell as favorite son.

Leon Henderson, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action which had supported the General, indicated that he considered the Columbia statement a flat refusal.

So did J. Oliver Emmerich of the Southern States' Rights group which also had backed Eisenhower. In any case, Emmerich said in McComb, Miss., the boom "showed up the weakness of Truman. People already are convinced that Truman is a dead duck."

On the Republican side of the fence, the Dewey-Warren ticket drew support from an unexpected source in Charles A. Edison, former Democratic governor of New Jersey. He said in West Orange that the government needs a housecleaning and the GOP nominee is the man to tackle the job. Edison is a one-time Republican.

SUFFERED ILLNESS

Glamorized Movie Career of Carol Landis Comes To End With Suicide

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The glamorized movie career of Actress Carole Landis came to an abrupt end yesterday with the finding of her body in the bathroom of her Pacific Palisades home. Police said she had taken her own life.

Clutched in her hand was a satin ribbon with the Lord's Prayer imprinted in gold lettering. On a nearby dresser was a note addressed to her mother.

Capt. of Detectives Emmett Jones said: "This is definitely a suicide". The detective said there were four bottles of sleeping pills in Miss Landis' bathroom and dressing room. He said an empty bottle was found near the body.

Capt. Jones reported the beautiful blond actress, 29, had died perhaps 12 hours before the body was found by film actor Rex Harrison, who said he had been unable to reach her by telephone regarding a business matter.

The officers said a maid was in the home but had thought Miss Landis was still in her bedroom and did not notice the body huddled in a corner of the bathroom.

Miss Landis left a note, written on her own stationery, which read as follows:

"Dearest Mommie—

"I'm sorry, really sorry, to put you through this, but there is no way to avoid it. I love you darling. You have been the most wonderful mom ever—and that applies to all our family. I love each and every one of them dearly. Everything goes to you. Look in the files and there is a will which decrees everything.

"Boodbye, my angel—pray for me—your baby."

Harrison told police Miss Landis had been ill for a week, suffering a recurrence of an amoebic infection she incurred during a wartime entertainment tour in the South Pacific.

Only last March 22 the actress filed suit to divorce her fourth husband, theatrical producer Horace Schmidlapp, on grounds of cruelty. Schmidlapp, who was at Cincinnati, O., said he was shocked by his wife's death and was leaving immediately for California.

The actress' mother, Mrs. Clara Landis of Seminole Hot Springs, Calif., did not arrive at her daughter's home until about four hours after the discovery. She collapsed, crying:

"Oh, my baby, I want to see my baby. Why didn't somebody call me?"

The mother was accompanied by Miss Landis' sister, Mrs. Walter L. Ross, of Long Beach, Calif. Other survivors are the father, Alfred L. Ridste of Richmond, Calif., and a brother, Lawrence B. Ridste, San Bernardino, Calif.

The body was taken to a Santa Monica mortuary.

Miss Landis, daughter of a railroad mechanic, was born Frances Ridste at Fairchild, Wis. She moved to San Diego, Calif., as a small child and was educated there and at San Bernardino.

Israel Rejects Peace Proposals

CAIRO (AP)—Israel today formally rejected Count Folke Bernadotte's Palestine peace proposals. Neither Arabs nor Jews gave a definite reply on the United Nations Mediator's bid for an extension of the Holy Land truce.

Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok handed Bernadotte a 1,000-word reply to the mediator's proposal to turn Jerusalem over to Arab rule, make Haifa a free port and regulate immigration.

The reply said Israeli leaders were deeply wounded by the Jerusalem proposal. The Jews expressed emphatic opposition to and restriction on immigration, and urged Bernadotte to reconsider his whole approach to the problem. This latter was taken as an indication that the Jews are willing to extend the truce if new talks develop. The truce expires Friday.

A dispatch from Tel Aviv last night quoted an Israeli government spokesman as saying 27 cabinet members voted against the Bernadotte proposals and four abstained, after a three and a-half hour cabinet session.

Slavs Support Tito Again

BELGRADE (AP)—Yugoslavs were reported today to have given evidence of support for Premier Marshal Tito, who has been denounced by the Soviet-controlled Cominform.

The Yugoslav Communist newspaper Borba said last night that in five days the public subscribed $50,000,000 of the $70,000,000 national loan.

Other press accounts said local committees of the Communist party all over the country are sending messages to Belgrade that they are "with the Marshal". The national organization of war invalids resolved that its members will renew their efforts toward helping build socialism under Tito.

But there was an air of contradiction in the press. On the front pages appeared reports of blistering replies by Yugoslav Communist leaders to the Cominform charges.

The back pages of the same papers carried news items telling of normal operations between the countries belonging to the Cominform, or Communist International Information Bureau.

New Jersey To Back Gen. Ike

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—Frank Hague, state Democratic leader, today called on President Truman to request Gen. Eisenhower to accept the Democratic presidential nomination.

The vice chairman of the national Democratic committee said in a statement that "the position of the New Jersey delegation is unchanged. . . . New Jersey will cast its 36 votes for an out-and-out draft of Gen. Eisenhower at the convention."

The former Jersey City mayor, who on Sunday in Asbury Park led the New Jersey delegation from support of Truman to endorsement of Eisenhower at an extraordinary party caucus, continued:

"I can advise the President that New Jersey will go into the Republican column by over 300,000 votes" if President Truman is the candidate. He added, however, that if Gen. Eisenhower were drafted at the request of the President, the state would remain Democratic by over 200,000.

Gen. Eisenhower asserted last night that he "could not accept nomination for any public office."

To this disavowal Hague said: "I think Gen. Eisenhower's brother, Earl Eisenhower, expressed clearly the thought that is in the General's mind when he said that if President Truman were to request the General to accept the nomination it would afford the General an opportunity to serve the American people without being involved in a partisan controversy for the nomination."

Gen. Eisenhower Is Wise in Refusing Presidential Nomination From Democrats

You can't blame the Democrats for still trying but the statement made by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower yesterday should make it perfectly clear that the war-time commander of Allied forces still means what he said several months ago.

Calling for the "brakes" in a new Eisenhower boom, the General said:

"I will not at this time identify myself with any political party and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contest."

James Roosevelt notwithstanding, the phrase "could not accept nomination for any public office" should be crystal clear to even the most rabid supporters of Gen. Eisenhower. Particularly since Ike went on to say that he had not changed his mind since telling Republicans last January that he was "not available." Just as important, perhaps, is the fact, pretty well established now, that Gen. Eisenhower is a Republican. It would seem incongruous that he would refuse the GOP nomination and then turn around and accept the Democratic bid.

With Harry Truman looming as their candidate, the Democrats are looking everywhere for a stronger candidate and only Gen. Eisenhower would make the coming presidential campaign any kind of a race. And unless Ike changes his mind the very last minute, it looks like it will be Truman against Dewey come November.

Gen. Eisensower has, undoubtedly, increased his stature among the American people in his constant refusal to be drafted by a party which, seeing the handwriting of defeat on the wall, is attempting to use the General's popularity to retain its control on the national government. Only because they realize President Truman will be defeated, are party wheelhorses like Frank Hague of New Jersey and Kelley of Chicago deserting the Truman ship and throwing their support to what was hoped would be an Eisenhower boom.

The new president of Columbia university is probably the most popular military figure in modern American history. He demonstrated outstanding ability as supreme commander of all European forces during the war and his uniting of all the Allies will always be his greatest achievement. But as he himself indicated last January his military abilities do not necessarily qualify him for the office of president.

Gen. Eisenhower has had a distinguished military career and his reputation will be further enhanced as president of one of America's leading universities. He is wise in removing himself from the political scene and leaving that field to those men who are best suited for it. It should not be the task of great Americans like Gen. Eisenhower to save a party, which split by internal dissentions, is attempting to foist its divided control upon the country through the personal popularity of a man who has already served his country well.

DEWITT

Moscow Made Blunder in Attacking Marshall Tito

The Muscovite hierarchy clearly has made a mighty bad tactical blunder in sicking its Cominform police-dog on Marshal Tito and the Yugoslav Communist captains.

The Cominform has received a kick in the teeth which has done more to convince the western democracies of the Bolshevist dictatorship's vulnerability than any event since the war. Moscow had played the school-yard bully with so little resistance for so long that it had built up a tradition of success. Now in one bad move it has thrown away much of its ill-gained advantage.

The immediate result has been a stiffening of the democratic front.

True, some very cautious quarters in Washington have been speculating that the Yugoslav maneuver might be phony. They figure it could be a ruse to arouse western antagonism and then capitalize on it, or to open up Yugoslavia as a channel through which Marshall plan help could pass into the Soviet zone. Be that as it may, if it was intended as a trick, it has failed.

The democracies recognized there is a possibility that the Russian satellite empire in eastern Europe may be threatened with collapse. The units of that empire have been kept in subjection by police force, and have been consolidated by Moscow's domination.

Yugoslavia continues to stand pat in her defiance of Moscow and hints of willingness to deal with west as well as east. Not only that, but she boldly proposes a Balkan bloc with Bulgaria and Albania. And Bulgaria, which long has been closer to Russia than any other Balkan state, promptly climbed on the fence between Moscow and Yugoslavia. That must be hard for the Muscovites to swallow.

To cap the climax the gorgeously uniformed and much be-medaled Marshal Tito is reported by the Belgrade radio to have reappeared in the capital. He was as usual theatrical, for he is said to have visited some building sites—about the last thing one would have expected him to do in the midst of the tense crisis. And all this while his own life wouldn't be worth a plugged nickel if his political enemies could get within gunshot of him. Tito is a swaggering dictator in his own right—but he has his points, one of which is nerve.

The next move would seem to be up to Moscow.

How Democrats Can Profit From Republicans; Television Tips

NEW YORK—It will behoove—love that word—the Democrats to seize the minutes of the recent GOP rat-race in Philadelphia, and mull them carefully, ere they meet in happy conclave a week hence.

The Republicans wrote a script which was fumblous, but which, if tightened and the bugs shaken out, may serve the Democrats full well. A lot of pioneering went on in Philadelphia, and the donkey serenaders can profit by the prattfalls of the elephant.

In the matter of keynote speeches, there is no necessity for a heavy rewrite on Gov. Dwight Green's opening salvo. Far as I could see, he covered everything. The Republicans are pledged to revere motherhood, love dogs, cast out crime, cut prices, stabilize wages, prevent war, increase the output of iceboxes, endorse sacred love, maintain strict party asceticism while giving the farmers a benign aid and assistance, slash taxes, regulate the weather, snip the Irish pennants off the coat of bureaucracy and come out strongly for God, country and Thomas E. Dewey.

If the Democrat hackwriters will just delete a few invidious comments on the late Mr. Roosevelt, substitute Democrat for GOP, and insert some extra, bitter paragraphs about their personal renegade, the Hon. Hank, then they need fret no more about what to say on opening night. They might, in the interests of brevity, ignore a keynote speech entirely, figuring that the Republicans have said it all, anyhow.

It would be wise, after the experience with Madame Luce, to post a couple of burly censors at the side of their secondary speaker. Mrs. Luce was severely chastised for her momentary lapse from party glorification, to shove in a brace of hefty plugs for her boy Li'l Arthur Vandenberg.

It turned out that this profiteer L'il Arthur naught, but if he had crept in as a nominee, the Dewey-Stassen-Taft delegations would have been bitter, indeed, as the usurping of pristine party talk-time to shill for a personal favorite.

To this end, the Democrats might have the strong-armers standing on the alert, equipped with gags to muffle the mouth of any impassioned orator who suddenly switches from dicta to endorsement, say, of Bill Douglas or Mrs. Roosevelt over the head of Harry T. It will look funny on television, but shucks, everything looks funny on television.

The Democrats should also profit heavily from the Republican experience with that new monster, Video. For instance, only a couple of delegations caught on to the fact that, if you demanded a roll-call, each separate delegate got his face on the television screen. In addition to firing a resounding "Ah still stick to Mistah Dewey" or "Vandenberg forever" at the constituents, Joe delegate can also project his pan for a brief but important second of fame. Of such, I am told, are minor civil service appointments and postmasterships made.

It is to be assumed that, after the hue-and-cry that was raised over the unsightly spectacle the speakers made on the vicious little screens, that no politico in his right mind will show up in Philadelphia without a pot of makeup paste. This will apply especially to the lady speakers, who come out even worse than the men under the merciless lights of video. It is also needless to warn the next batch of delegates that sobriety is to be recommended as an antidote to the specter of television, because a snootful is unbeautiful to watch on a screen, and apt to enrage the voters back home.

CULINARY ARTISTS---HERE'S A CHANCE TO DISPLAY YOUR TALENT

Refuting a popular belief that bread baking, cake making, canning, preserving and allied activities in the home kitchen are fast becoming lost arts, Los Angeles County Fair will return on Sept. 17 to the beautiful exposition park in Pomona, with a larger and more comprehensive display than ever before.

The department will afford 250 different opportunities for women, and men too, for that matter, to show the results of their skill while participating in friendly competition for the cash awards and the coveted prize ribbons. The department will occupy a prominent place in the spacious domestic arts building. A million people are expected to visit the fair this fall and a large proportion of them will view the tempting exhibits.

A premium book containing the various classifications, full directions for entering and all other necessary information, is now available and can be had by directing a card to Los Angeles County Fair, Pomona, mentioning the domestic arts department. There are separate books for different sections of the fair.

The classifications include various kinds of bread, such as white, raisin, Boston and ordinary brown bread, orange bread, nut bread, ginger bread, rolls and muffins; a dozen different kinds of cookies; twenty varieties of cakes, including the currently popular chiffon cake, and five different candies. Pies are not included.

In the canning and preserving section there are places for all kinds of the popular canned fruits, berries, fruit juices, vegetables, pickles, preserves, jellies, jams, marmalades and fruit butters. Candied fruits, also, have a section of their own. A new feature this year allows the exhibitor to enter an assortment of half a dozen jars from the above named classifications.

Of special interest is a department wherein substantial cash awards will be offered for tables set for luncheon, breakfast, buffet supper, garden or tea.

The entire culinary division will be for amateurs only. Teachers and those who commercialize their work are not eligible.

Ban On Vet Training Just For Fun Banned by Governmeet

WASHINGTON AP—Uncle Sam is banning courses of training or education for veterans who want them just for the fun of it.

That doesn't mean a ban on anything that is intended to help a veteran make a living.

If you're a veteran it might be a good idea to read this carefully so you'll get an idea of what you can and can't do from now on.

Under the GI bill of rights, veterans—at government expense—have been able to take all kinds of courses and training.

They include not only college educations but things like dancing, photography, glider-flying, pilot-training, bartending, personality development, banjo playing, singing, public speaking.

Some of the courses pretty clearly have been for fun or some other reason not connected with making a living.

About 11 months ago the U.S. budget bureau started an investigation of "avocational" training courses.

(An "avocational" training course is one not essential to a veteran's job goal.)

The bureau made a report which said, in effect, that some schools were offering courses purely for "recreational, social and leisure-time pursuits."

The bureau made its report to President Truman. And in his budget message to Congress last January, Mr. Truman said this fun-training was costing the taxpayers a lot of money.

He asked Congress to re-examine the "basic purposes" of the GI bill of rights and make what changes it thought should be made.

Congress made some changes to this extent:

It said the Veterans Administration after June 30, 1948, should not pay for any GI training which the VA decides is avocational or recreational.

(Veterans who enrolled for such courses before June 30 can finish them, but no new ones can be undertaken.)

But the problem is: What's avocational or recreational? For example:

One man may want to learn dancing just to be a social lion; another may want to learn it so he can make a living teaching it.

One man may want to learn photography as a hobby; another may want to make a living at it.

One man may want to learn how to mix drinks so he'll be a good host at his own parties; another may want to learn so he can make a living as a bartender.

One man may want to learn to be a pilot just for the thrill; another may want to learn so he can make a living flying or use flying in his business.

Where is the line drawn there? Who decides?

The veterans administration will have to do the deciding in each case when a veteran applies for such training.

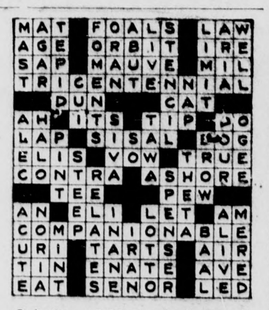

At this point that's about the best answer that can be given.

Lions Top Rotary in 'Game of Year'

Last Inning Rally Yields Triumph, 7-6

After leading for six innings, the Upland Rotary softball team failed to halt an upsurge of Lions' tallies in the final frame and went down in defeat for the fourth time in three years, 7-6, yesterday at Upland Memorial park.

Meeting in the annual Fourth of July classic, the Rotarians, behind the air-tight pitching of Lyle Callow, held the edge, 6-2, until the first half of the seventh inning. Then it was Francis "Squeak" Wilson again who proved to be the nemesis for the Wheelers as he pounded out a three-bagger with the bases loaded to push over the tying and winning runs.

In the past two years it has been the pitching of Wilson which has kept the Rotary nine from victory. Last night with Lew Fuller in the box for Howard's Howlers, it was the bat of "Squeak" which crumpled the Rotarians into another defeat.

Mgr. Oris Heinauer's charges started in great style in the first inning by scoring four runs. Adding two more later, the Rotarians supported Callow in the box to hold the Lions scoreless until the sixth inning, when the winners pushed over two.

The seventh inning debacle for the Rotarians began when after filling the bases Callow lost control and forced in two runs to make the count 6-4. Then, with the count 3 and 2 on him, Wilson pounded a hard liner right over second base to center field for his all-important triple.

In their half of the final stanza, the Rotarians didn't even threaten, going down one, two, three in quick succession. It was a "tough" one for the Rotary club to lose but an outstanding comeback for the Lions who, until the last inning, seemed certain of receiving their first defeat since the annual series got underway three years ago.

In the afternoon baseball contest, the Ontario Legion nine batted out a 20-8 victory over the Upland Legion nine in a loosely-played contest.

Ayersmen Stage Exhibition Game

Drawing a bye in the Central league schedule, the Van Fleets will stage an exhibition game at Memorial park tonight at 8:30 with the powerful El Patio team of Pomona.

The Van Fleets dropped their last league game to Rialto when several key men were unable to play. Some of the team were at National Guard meetings, and others, Luther Van Hoy in particular, were occupied with private business. Manager Ayers reports that the regular team will be fielded tonight.

Cucamonga, tied for first in the city league standings, takes on next-to-last-place Legion in the first game at 7 p.m. Richard Zuccatto, co-king of city league hurlers, will start on the mound for the Merchants.

RIEGEL HOLDER OF TRIPLE GOLF CROWN

WICHITA, Kas. (AP)—Golfer Skee Riegel wore a triple crown today.

The Glendale, Calif., shotmaker won the Western Amateur Golf title yesterday, defeating James McHale, the ex-professional from Philadelphia, 3 and 1, in the finals of the week-long tournament.

Riegel also holds the National Amateur and Trans-Mississippi titles.

Braves, Tribe Hold Top Spots

by Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves will meet in the World Series next October if the old baseball axiom — "the team in first place on July 4 wins the pennant"—holds true.

The Indians are pacing the American league by one game and the Braves top the National by two.

In the American league's 47-year history, the team in first place Independence Day won the pennant 30 seasons, a .638 percentage.

The July 4 first placers fared even better in the National as 31 went on to win the flag against the 16 who didn't. That's a .650 percentage.

The Indians were held even Saturday, but lost no ground as their closest pursuers, the Philadelphia Athletics, also split a twin bill and the third place New York Yankees were handed a rousing double dousing by the Red Sox in Boston.

The Indians won the opener, 6-3, for Bobby Lemon's 12th triumph. The Tigers took a 7-5 victory in the nightcap. Cleveland Ken Keltner's two home runs put him on top in that department with 19.

Held to six hits and defeated 3-1 by Mickey Haefner and the Senators in Washington, the Athletics bounced back in the second game, mauling five Washington pitchers for 14 hits and a 12-5 triumph.

Bobby Doerr clouted three home runs, two in the second game, as the Red Sox topped the Yankees 6-5 and 8-7. The Yankees appeared en route to a split, holding a 7-5 edge in the eighth inning, but Doerr's third home run with Ted Williams on base tied the count. A single by Matt Batts, a sacrifice, and Dom Di Maggio's single broke up the game in the ninth.

The Chicago White Sox, season long occupants of the American league cellar, climbed within a game and a half of the seventh place Browns by sweeping a doubleheader from St. Louis, 3-2 and 5-4.

After losing a heart breaking 6-5 decision in 13 innings, the Braves bounced back to whip the Giants, 4-1. However, they lost a full game to the St. Louis Cardinals, who moved past Pittsburgh into second place. The Cards swept the Chicago Cubs 6-3 and 5-2.

Ralph Kiner belted three home runs in the first game as the Pirates split with Cincinnati, winning the first 10-3, and losing the second, 6-4. It was the third time Kiner has hit three homers in one game. Johnny Mize of the Giants holds the record, five.

Gerry Staley, who had not won a game all season, received credit for both Cardinal victories, in relief. Stan Musial rapped two hits in each game to boost his batting average to .410.

Rex Barney ptiched the second complete game of his big league career as the Brooklyn Dodgers jolted the Phillies in Philadelphia 4-3 and 10-1.

SEATTLE (AP)—Lou Novikoff, Coast league hitting and home-run leader while with the Los Angeles Angels a number of years ago, has been sold outright by the Seattle Rainiers.

DUKES SPRING UPSET OF SEASON IN DOWNING CYCLE AND SPORT NINE, 6-5 AT CITY PARK

Making a sensational comeback, a fighting Duke's team upset the once-feared Cycle and Sports 6-5 Friday night, leaving the Police team with only the slimmest chance of taking a share of the city league championship.

Pitcher Anguiano of the Pirates joined Shady Grove's Al Book as the only city hurlers to pitch a one-hit game when he shut out Fontana 18-0 in the nightcap. Anguiano had a no-hitter within his grasp when Fontana catcher Scarr singled in the last of the seventh with two out. Left-fielder Gomez led the Pirates' 21-hit barrage, racking up an amazing five-for-five total.

Duke's opened the tight battle with two quick runs in the first inning, and then clinched the game with three more in the fourth. Clyde Frishholz smacked out a homer with one on, and left fielder Jacoby scored with some fancy base-stealing.

Clyde Francisco turned back the powerful Police bats with five hits, making up for the debacle which lost to the Pirates last week and cost Duke's a chance at the pennant. He out-pitched Cycle hurler Tut Miller, who gave up eight hits.

The way things stand now with the Police virtually out of the picture, the battle July 28 between Cucamonga and the Pirates will decide the city league champion. They are tied for first place, each with seven wins and one loss, and are strong favorites to finish the season with no more defeats. Their meeting should be quite a game.

RECORD THRONGS TURN OUT AT PARKS, TRACKS

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight major league baseball doubleheaders vied with the race tracks for drawing holiday sports fans yesterday and it was almost a tie.

The baseball games attracted 269,924, paced by the 59,042 turnout at Cleveland, which swelled that club's attendance for the year to over the million mark.

Eleven race tracks drew 292,132, with a record throng of 46,490 at Arlington Park in Chicago to watch Citation win. Los Angeles' Hollywood Park topped that, however, with 52,634.

Oaks, Seals To Open Series

by Associated Press

The "natural" of the Coast league season shaped up today as San Francisco and Oakland prepared to have at each other.

The Oaks swept a twin bill from Hollywood, 6-0 and 7-4, yesterday to move into a virtual tie for the lead with their cross-bay rivals. The Seals split with Los Angeles, winning 10-7 and losing, 2-0.

The fifth of July festivities left the standings: San Francisco .579, Oakland .576. The seven game series starting at Oakland tonight will alter that, one way or another.

Southpaw Earl Jones became the first pitcher to shut out Hollywood in 111 games by checking the slugging stars with five hits in the Oaks' initial win yesterday.

Jones fanned nine, ending his display by whiffing Gus Zernial and Frank Kelleher, the Stars homer wins. Hollywood's last calsomining came late last season.

George Metkovich's home run paced a 10-hit attack in the Oaks' nightcap win. Oakland took the series, six-three.

The Seals and Angels set a new Los Angeles series attendance record of 95,387 for the nine game set. A crowd of 13,430 saw the Seals cluster seven runs in the fourth inning to nab the opener, despite three Angel homers.

Tom Hafey bested Con Dempsey in a mound duel to even the day's accounts and avenge a 1-0 reversal by Dempsey Thursday. Hafey gave up four hits, Dempsey only three . . . but two were four baggers, by Eddie Lukon and Dom Dallessandro.

San Francisco won the series, five-four, leaving Los Angeles in a third place tie with San Diego, two games back.

San Diego rose with another double win over hapless Sacramento, 14-7 and 2-1. Jack Graham swatted his 36th homer pacing the Padres' 17-hit attack in the first game. Padres' series, seven-two.

Portland rallied for four runs to defeat Seattle, 6-3, then repeated 7-2 behind Carl De Rose's effective twirling. The sweep gave the Beavers a six-three series bulge, entrenching them in seventh and Seattle in fifth place.

TOP BATTER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gene Woodling, San Francisco outfielder, topped Pacific Coast baseball league batters in the list of averages including games of July 4. Woodling's average was .381 in 53 games.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman A. Keys, 79 East Seventh street, have as their guest John Townsend, a brother to Mrs. Keys. Mr. Townsend, who arrived yesterday and plans to visit for two weeks, is associated with the Brown and Bigelow calendar company in St. Paul, where he is a layout man.

Plane Lands Without Gear

A demonstration of expert flying ability prevented possible injuries and serious damage Sunday when an Ontario flying service plane was forced to make a "belly" landing because of the failure of the landing gear to operate.

Cesare Vai, who was piloting a Bellanca-Cruisair, was in a serious predicament when a mechanical failure of the landing gear actuating mechanism made it necessary to land the plane with the gear up. Two student pilots were in the plane at that time, but neither they nor Mr. Vai were injured.

"It took a very high degree of skill to land the plane without injuring the occupants or causing more damage than was done," George Draper, one of the owners of the plane, said. "It was a good demonstration of Mr. Vai's piloting ability."

Report Six Ontario Fires

Six blazes, two of them caused by fireworks, were reported to the Ontario fire department over the Fourth of July holiday, with only one of them causing property damage.

Originating in a trash and lumber pile, fire damaged a tool shed belonging to Martin Speaker, 617 East J street, yesterday afternoon. Quick response of the fire department was credited with preventing the total destruction of the shed and its contents, valued at $2000.

Two grass fires were extinguished by the department during the three-day weekend, one of them at Ontario International airport. A palm tree was ignited when a small boy threw a blazing sparkler into it at 411 West G street. Another palm tree fire was reported at 500 East J St.

A firecracker thrown into a vent at 625 South Vine avenue resulted in a small blaze which was extinguished before any damage was done.

G.E. Field To Be Dedicated

The new General Electric employes' softball field will be dedicated tomorrow night at ceremonies which are slated to start at 7 p.m., with all G.E. employes and their families invited to attend.

W. H. Tangeman, works manager, will dedicate the field to members of the General Electric athletic association. The field will be used chiefly by the inter-departmental softball program, which is composed of 12 teams. Following the ceremony, the G.E. city league team will play a team composed of an all-star selection from the inter-departmental league.

A free watermelon feed will start the program, and amateur boxing bouts are slated for 7:30.

The field is located on Main street between Sultana and Campus avenues. Lights have been installed, enabling the teams to play at night instead of in the afternoon after working hours as they have been doing.

Lemon Demand Up Because of Heat

LOS ANGELES—Big news from the California citrus industry during the week ending July 3 was the sharp advance in demand and returns on lemons as a result of the first real heat wave of the season which pushed temperatures into the 90's in the eastern section of the country.

Sales of California lemons were 30 cars heavier than the previous week and the f.o.b. average rose a dollar a box.

The improved market situation on lemons prompted quick action on the part of the lemon administrative committee which raised the prorate for the week an additional 100 cars to a total of 825 cars. Prorate for the week beginning July 4 was set at 800 cars by the industry committee.

County Tax Levy Shows Increase

Average property tax levy per $1,000 of valuation in San Bernardino county was $54.20 for 1947-48, compared with the statewide average of $50.53 for 1947-48 and with the $53.59 levy in the county for 1946-47, California Taxpayers' association said today, analyzing the burden of local property taxes—for counties, cities, schools and special districts—in California counties.

Total property tax levy in the county for 1947-48 amounted to $12,890,148. Assessed valuation of taxable property for the year was $237,815,150.

Levy for 1946-47 amounted to $10,147,979, while the taxable valuation of property in the county was $189,370,790.

Will Need 2,000 Seasonal Workers

LOS ANGELES (Æ)—The American Can Co. announced it will employ an additional 2,000 seasonal workers in west coast plants this summer for periods from two to 12 weeks.

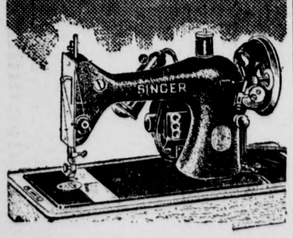

Regional Vice-President E. H. Bell said most of the temporary workers will be students, housewives and other persons normally available for short term employment.

Employment Gains Shown for May

SAN FRANCISCO (Æ)—California manufacturing employment gained slightly in May, reaching 696,300, compared with 695,800 in April. The May total exceeded that of a year ago by more than 3,000, the department of industrial relations reported today.

Gains in the food industry in May offset losses in most other industry groups.

One Dead in Cycle Riots

RIVERSIDE Æ—As the last of "those wild motorcycle boys" chugged off, citizens of Riverside began sweeping their way today out of the dust and debris.

Sighs of relief were audible on all sides, but perhaps the loudest came from Sheriff Carl F. Rayburn, sponsor of the three-day meet which disrupted the city.

"That's the last time I'm inviting the motorcycle crowd," said the sheriff. "I dont' think it's a good thing for a little town like Riverside."

Sheriff Rayburn, however, placed the blame on "a bunch of crazy kids," and said American Motorcycle association members were not responsible for the wild riding down main streets and fist throwing in sundry bars.

When the 2,000 cyclists departed there were one dead, one injured and 54 arrested.

The AMA 100-mile tough track race on the Box Springs course was won by Ed Kretz of Wilmar, Calif.

The winner's time was two hours, 26 minutes and 2.15 seconds, which seemed a short race to some residents after the impromptu series of street dashes Saturday and Sunday nights.

Chino Optimist Club Planned

A new Optimist club in Chino is being organized and will be put into operation soon under the sponsorship of the Ontario club, according to Paul Cushing, Ontario Optimist president.

The sponsorship committee, appointed by President Cushing, is Fed Mense, chairman; Hugh McCallum, Bill Wright, Leo Reihsen, Rex Cooper, and Bud Short. This group will supervise the new club until it is fully organized.

Each Optimist member was asked by President Cushing to accommodate one or more boys from the Vancouver Band, which the club is sponsoring for July 12. The club must furnish accommodations for boys who play in the band.

Capital To Fete Warren

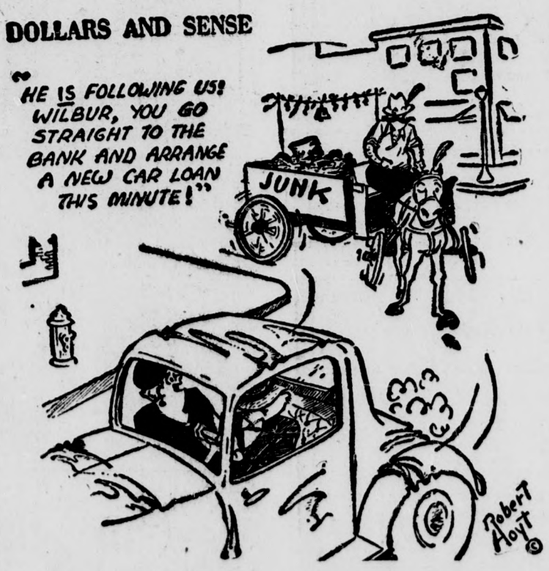

SACRAMENTO (Æ) — Earl Warren, the Republican choice for the vice-presidency of the U. S., will be feted today by California's capital.

Although the Governor has been back in Sacramento since Friday, the city's welcoming ceremonies were delayed until today, when the Overland arrives from Chicago with Mrs. Warren and their three daughters aboard.

Warren flew home from New York earlier than expected because of the illness of Lt. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and caught Sacramentans with their homecoming plans unfinished.

Today's events will begin with the arrival of the overland—listed for 5:10 p.m.—when a parade will form at the depot. It will include, besides the Governor and his family, bands and marchers and will pass through downtown streets to Capitol Park. There the Governor will deliver a short address in response to the welcoming words from Mayor Belle Cooledge.

CUB REPORTER GETS BIG ASSIGNMENT BUT MAKES GOOD IN MOVIES INSTEAD

ADA, Okla. (Æ)—John Clayton, 19-year-old cub reporter for the Ada Evening News, told himself he was going to make good on his first big assignment.

His city editor, Roy McKeown, had him get a job as an extra in the motion picture "Tulsa", being filmed on Oklahoma Gov. Roy J. Turner's ranch near here.

Clayton got a bit part as an oil field roustabout. Director Stuart Heisler noticed the youth and learned he had majored in dramatics at East Central State college here.

Clayton now feels he made good on his assignment.

He is leaving for Hollywood in two weeks for a screen test and possible movie career.

MACKENZIE SAYS

Tito Had Idea of Ruling Balkans, That's Why He's No Longer Around

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

So the Bolshevist citadel which Lenin and Stalin built isn't without weakness of structure after all!

The Red Cominform's blistering condemnation of Yugoslavia's cocky dictator, "Marshall" Tito, and his captains discloses a serious disaffection in one of the most important satellite states. This is the first big explosion of its kind to come to public knowledge and, as one would expect, Moscow has struck swiftly.

Tito's sins are not detailed but are summed up generally with the statement that Yugoslav communists have departed from the Marx-Lenin line and that Tito and his colleagues have followed a course which is hateful to Soviet Russia. The Cominform accuses them of being Trotzkyites, which is the supreme insult in the parlance of the Muscovites.

The way it looks from here, Moscow finally decided that the Marshall had got too big for his breeches. This peasant's son who worked his way up to leadership and displaced the Yugoslav monarchy, long has been regarded as a one-man band and a law unto himself. He improved on the customary communist tough-guy bullying and bluster. On several occasions he got tangled with the United States, and even defended his airmen in shooting down unarmed American planes over Yugoslavia, in one instance with the death of five U. S. aviators. His regime also has been charged with supporting the communist rebellion in Grece.

Tito has ruled Yugoslavia with an iron hand, and his dictatorship has ben a bloody one. Under his regime hundreds of priests have been executed in a drive against the church. The toll of political deaths probably never will be known.

However, that presumably would have been all right with Moscow if "Comrade Tito" had stuck to terrorism against anti-communists and bullying the democracies. But Tito had bigger ideas. He has given many signs of looking upon himself as Czar of Russia's Balkan satellites.

We shall hear more of this rivalry among the Red chieftains when Stalin finally relinquishes his rule, and maybe a dozen able but hard-boiled leaders compete for the Soviet dictatorship. But so long as Stalin is in the chair, there is only one boss.

A million Americans have signed up on the Bond-a-Month Plan in the past year. Ask your banker about this free service for automatic purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds.

Thrift is more important today than ever. Save for security the E Bond way.
